

A Scout is reverent. He is reverent toward God. He is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.

To encourage members to grow stronger in their faith, religious groups have developed a variety of religious emblems programs. The Boy Scouts of America has approved of these programs and allows the emblems to be worn on the official uniform, but the various religious groups administer the programs.

Use the contact information given on National's list of religious emblem programs or contact the religious organization directly to obtain the curriculum booklets.

National's Religious Emblems page